Experienced Change Capability for Benefit Realisation

Head of People and Culture

We have been able to build a organisational change management plan and implement it effectively across a broad range of stakeholders in a smooth orderly fashion

Head of Change Management

It has been great for me to have a team of expert resources I can call on to set up and deliver change projects and activities

Program Manager

I had a clear OCM strategy, but no capability to delivery it. LSE provided me with a selection of resources to chose from and I was able to pick the one who appeared to have the best cultural fit for our Program

Chief Information Officer

I ended up employing the contractor I hire and the transition was managed and seamless

Program Change Manager

I always get my change management resources from LSE. They give me flexibility and capability. Furthermore, all resources are governed by the owner, so the delivery quality is high
